Hi Huan, hi Kathleen,

Rebecca and I spoke about blogtrackers and possible activities for 2018 including a workshop (along the lines of Naples exercise) in Arkansas. Much of that is unstructured at this stage. In the coming weeks, we will know more as various stakeholders are involved in the planning & organization meetings. Stay tuned!

Best wishes,
Nitin

Good afternoon, Rebecca-

I hope you're doing well. Thank you so much for your helpful answers to our Minerva team questions that Nitin discussed with you the other day. We appreciate your willingness to schedule a call next week; however, with these answers in hand, we won't need to impose on your time.

Thank you again for your kind help, and have a great weekend!

Sorry for the unsolicited messages, but I figure this may be useful to some of you...

It sounds as though there is some interest in staying in the North Charleston / Airport area (near I-26 and I-526) where there is a Hampton Inn, Marriott, and other hotels, and also that there is interest in carpooling from that area. I already have one person on board to share rides from that area, and would be happy to make space for any others for those who are interested.

Subject: Program Review Hotel Block at Embassy Suites Historic District -
Reserve by May 18

All,

I have managed to block off some government rate rooms at the Embassy Suites Historic District in Charleston, SC for your stay during the Program Review. The block is for June 12-16 (or any subset thereof) to accommodate all travel schedules, and these rooms will be held by the hotel until May 18. A reservation code and links are provided in the forwarded email below.

You certainly do not have to stay at this hotel, but I wanted to offer blocked rooms for convenience as you make travel arrangements. The Embassy Suites is about 15-20 minutes away from the Naval Weapons Station, but is in a great downtown location within walking distance to shops, historical sites, and great restaurants.

Check the hotel website for any applicable parking charges, and I would encourage you all to look at carpooling where possible. Everyone must be driven onto the NWS - walking and taxis are not permitted, although car services can drop you off at the pass office where you could arrange to be picked up.

As a reminder, all the requested security forms/information is due by May 19 (next Friday). Thank you to those who have already submitted.

Please let me know if you have any questions. We look forward to seeing you at the Program Review next month.

Best,

Scott

Hey Scott!

Yippee! Your block is in the system for June 12-16th, at EMBASSY SUITES HISTORIC DISTRICT!

The code for folks to use when booking on the internet is "SPM". This is mainly intended for booking on line. I am happy to walk you through a reservation on line just in case anyone happens to ask you. It is simple and fast! They just type it where it asks for "Group/Convention Code".

Here are the booking venues for folks:

Embassy Suites Historic District direct: 888-448-7829 or 843-723-6900
Embassy Suites website: Caution-www.embassysuites.com Our own website:
Caution-www.charleston-hotels.net (click on Embassy Suites) Embassy Suites
Reservations: 800-EMBASSY or 800-362-2779

Just be sure when booking on the internet, they utilize the "SPM" code to access the special group rate. The POG (one-click link) should be ready by tomorrow but they certainly do not need that. We set the cut-off date for May 18th. So send them on!

THANKS, Scott! I am thrilled this came together!!

Dear Dr., Wu and research team,

Pae Wu at ONR-Global is trying to work on bringing a few Singapore researchers interested in data mining and information environment assessment specific to the Asia-Pacific region on campus visits to see talk with you all in your home settings.

Dr. Kathleen Carley is at Carnegie Mellon University, working on mathematical sociology and modeling approaches (primarily social network analysis) to the problem of understanding crowd manipulation, hysteria and disinformation.

Dr. Camber Warren is at Naval Postgraduate School with specialties in counter-terrorism and modeling. I am not as familiar with his work but he's associated with the NPS CORE Lab, where our team has been collaborating for years. There's lots there to see.

Dr. Peter Chew is a linguist and NLP expert with study in the topic of master narratives. He's currently pursuing a review and study on Asia Pacific narratives under ONR sponsorship. He's in New Mexico, but could travel up to ASU for a meeting.

Huan Liu is a data mining, machine learning and bot expert. I think there's much synergy possible there with the Sing researchers who also come from that line of research.

Scott Ruston and Steve Corman are just about to start a project on narrative modeling; All of these are at ASU.

Nitin Agarwal, a former student under Huan Liu, is now an endowed chair of information science at University of Arkansas-Little Rock. His team pursues advanced research in cyber forensics in social media that has won considerable acclaim.

Dr. Wu works out of Singapore (ONR Global, where Chong Ong was stationed) in the same position as Chong Ong (Asst Director). Please keep an eye out for email from her, send her stuff, and generally help her get up to speed. She's looking to create a workshop in Singapore in early 2019.

Hi Rebecca - was great to chat with you last week about your program and goals.

I'm following up in the hopes that you can provide me with contact info/e-troductions to your Pls at ASU, CMU, NPS, and Arkansas to discuss possibly sending the SG PI out to the US for a tour to better understand the social science that your program's already revealed. Part of a "let's not reinvent the wheel and let's get some learning in SG happening" on this topic so that he might then be better equipped to respond to the larger question of what does disinformation look like in Asia.

Thanks for the help - I think we can easily fund him to take a tour around the US performer base to learn and perhaps even strike up some collaborative efforts. And if you're amenable, we could even have him take a swing through Arlington to speak to you directly. I think he could benefit greatly from the interaction.

Let me know what you think - Thanks for your time.

Scott Ruston and Steve Corman are just about to start a project on narrative modeling; All of these are at ASU.

Nitin Agarwal, a former student under Huan Liu, is now an endowed chair of information science at University of Arkansas-Little Rock. His team pursues advanced research in cyber forensics in social media that has won considerable acclaim.

Dr. Wu works out of Singapore (ONR Global, where Chong Ong was stationed) in the same position as Chong Ong (Asst Director). Please keep an eye out for email from her, send her stuff, and generally help her get up to speed. She's looking to create a workshop in Singapore in early 2019.

Subject: Visits to your program PIs / contacts?

Hi Rebecca - was great to chat with you last week about your program and goals.

I'm following up in the hopes that you can provide me with contact info/e-troductions to your PIs at ASU, CMU, NPS, and Arkansas to discuss possibly sending the SG PI out to the US for a tour to better understand the social science that your program's already revealed. Part of a "let's not reinvent the wheel and let's get some learning in SG happening" on this topic so that he might then be better equipped to respond to the larger question of what does disinformation look like in Asia.

Thanks for the help - I think we can easily fund him to take a tour around the US performer base to learn and perhaps even strike up some collaborative efforts. And if you're amenable, we could even have him take a swing through Arlington to speak to you directly. I think he could benefit greatly from the interaction.

Let me know what you think - Thanks for your time.

Pae

Very respectfully,

Pae Wu, Ph.D.

Subject: Vouching for Kyle Schwing FW: RSVP for NDU Conference
Date: Tuesday, February 26, 2019 10:05:42 PM

Rebecca, Kathleen - Kyle forwarded this to me and asked me to reach out to you to vouch for him.

He's a trusted partner and has attended many of my (and other DARPA PMs') PI meetings, etc. If you have the space for him, I think he would be an excellent addition. As he notes, it will be much easier for him to explain his role to Rebecca in person.

Thanks in advance for considering this request.

Adam

P.S. I'm very bummed to be missing this myself!

As I mentioned, I am a government employee. Please tell Dr. Goolsby that Adam Russell at DARPA can vouch for me, I know that she knows him well.

Dr. Goolsby does not recall you - sorry - and is telling me you have to tell me what company or group you are with.

There are limited seats.

Prof. Carley,

I apologize that you feel I have placed you in a difficult position. I learned of the workshop through a long chain of emails that originated with Dr. Goolsby, who may be able to vouch for me since we have met before. If she does not recall, I am more than happy to introduce myself to your other sponsors on Thursday. Please do not worry about placing me on any list of attendees. As I mentioned I have full access to the facility, my concern in pre-registering was if there were a limited number of seats and to confirm the scheduled start/end times.

Thank you for your help,
Kyle

Sir. I am happy to talk with you tonight or tomorrow but I cannot just put you in the list. I was explicitly told not to add people that I didn't know where they were from or could vouch for. I am meeting the sponsor tomorrow and can bring up your case or I can call you then and have you talk to them if you can give me a number. Please note I've probably been in your position before and am a professor and ceo who works with various government org. I would like to help you out but you have placed me in a difficult position.

Prof. Carley,

I would like to register for your conference Feb 28-Mar 1 at NDU as a USG attendee. Could you please confirm the conference schedule? There is no need to pass my information to NDU, since I have regular access to Ft. McNair.

Thank you,
Kyle Schwing
